VERY URGENT

Today, 9 August, Sweden has recognised Guinea-Bissau. In a telegram to the Minister of Foreign Affairs of Guinea-Bissau, the Swedish Foreign Minister says the following:

“On behalf of the Swedish government, I wish to inform Your Excellency that the Swedish government today has decided formally and officially to recognize the Republic of Guinea-Bissau as a sovereign and independent state. On this occasion, I would like to convey to Your Excellency the Swedish government’s most sincere congratulations and best wishes for the future of the people of the Republic of Guinea-Bissau and for the prosperity of its people”.
